

Surveillance Software for Private Investigators

Whether you are investigating corporate espionage or cheating spouses, odds are that evidence can be found on the computers of those suspected.

That's why you need the #1 selling investigation tool - Spector.

Spector records all chat conversations, all instant messages, all e-mails, all web sites visited and all keystrokes typed --- anything anyone does on the computer and on the Internet.

And with the all new eBlaster, activity reports can now be e-mailed directly to you --- anywhere in the world.

Priced as low as $30 per license.
